BIO

Liliane Avalos is a multidisciplinary visual artist with a passion for exploring various mediums, including acrylic and watercolor paintings, murals, tattoos, and surface design. Born and raised in South Texas, Liliane has always harbored a desire to expand her horizons beyond the Rio Grande Valley. Since 2018, she has embraced the life of an international nomadic artist, creating captivating works wherever her journeys take her.

Through her extensive travels, Liliane has cultivated a profound admiration for the rich traditions and values of diverse cultures. This exposure has kindled a deep sense of self-love for her own heritage and upbringing. Immersed in different communities, engaging in conversations, forging friendships, and living amongst people of varied cultures, religions, and environments, she has gained firsthand insights and understanding. From living in Bali, Indonesia, Dubai, UAE, and Hawaii, to exploring Malaysia, Thailand, Philippines, and Japan, each country has left an indelible mark on Liliane's identity as a sun-kissed Mexican American woman, proud of her roots in South Texas.

STATEMENT

Liliane is guided by the principle that life experiences are all forms of expression and tools that sculpt and influence someone into the person they currently are, have been, or truly want to be. She is primarily inspired by traditional folk art of Mexico, Macabre humor, pop culture, TexMex childhood nostalgia, tattoo culture, street art, and the human relationship with mother nature and endangered species. Liliane is particularly interested in concepts involving memento mori, exploring themes of morality, love, and consciousness. She finds value in the way that these complex and sometimes difficult ideas relay poetically through imagery and symbols that allow her to convey her theories and ambiguous autobiographical work.
